

What is Motivational Interviewing

Motivational Interviewing is a client-centered counseling model of communication and counseling that is used for evoking and enhancing people's intrinsic motivation to change unhealthful behaviors that are inconsistent with their values and goals.